best of History, 5703 Years.

Wherein is contained the Motions, Aspects, and Operations of the Planets; with Observations on the Eclipses and Solar Ingresses; with other remarkable Passages, as the Moon's Southing, Sun and Moon's Rising and Setting, and Monthly Observations, in a Poetical Manner, the like not extant, &c.

Calculated according to ART, and referred to the Meridian of the middle of GREAT BRITAIN, fitting the whole Monarchy without sensible Error.

The thirty ninth Impression.

By SALEM PEARSE,
Student in Physick and the Cœlestial Sciences.

Lift up your Eyes to the Heavens, and look upon the Earth beneath: for the Heavens shall vanish away like Smoke, and the Earth shall wax old like a Garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner. Isaiah li. 6.

EXAMPLE.

At 3d. 2q. a Pound, what is the Price of the Great Hundred? Look in the Left Hand Column for 3d. 2q. and right against it in the next Column towards the Right Hand you will find 1l. 12s. 8d.

Again, Suppose Goods were sold at 13d. a Pound, what is the Price of the great Hundred Weight? Look in the sixth Column towards the Right Hand Side of the Table, and you will find 6l. 1s. 4d. the Price thereof; this Table being so plain and easy, we need not trouble the Reader with any more Examples.

Note. For every Farthing that one Pound cost reckon 2s. 4d. and that is the Price of the great Hundred.

A Table of INTEREST at five per Cent.

JANUARY hath XXXI Days.

When, in his Might, the Dog-star reigned here ;
 And, when our City and our Armies were Made jealous of each other, by their Wiles,
 Who, sought to nourish Discord in these Isles, Fill'd full of Thoughts, and sad, and sleepless lying Upon my Couch, there silently surveying,

Monthly Observations.

The GENIUS, (whom observe I pray with h ed)
With raised Eyes, did thus, agai , proceed.
How vain would I find Words and Exhortations,
Which might not, now, be lost upon these Nations!
But, cause them to consider, and discern
The 10th Day of this Month 1740,
the hopeful Princess Elizabeth, 2d Daughter to the Royal Highness Princess Dowager of Wales,
was born.
Those Things which their well being may concern,
That all well-meant Endeavours for their good Might not be still neglected, or withstood,
And future Ages wonder what dire
Fate
This Generation did infatuate.
My Breath hath h therto been chiefly spent
The King's approaching Ruin to prevent,
By screwing Thoughts into him which may wake him
From Slumber, and, for Peace, industrious make him,
Now I shall also somewhat say to them,
Who stand in prime relation unto him.

FEBRUARY hath XXVIII Days.

From whence I know not) brought into the Room,

Did not this Land commit, in former Times,
Sins of Rebellion, and resisting Crimes ;
For which our Children, to the fourth Degree,
Must feel the cruel scourge of Destiny.
But I'm uncertain, Goddess, then be kind,
Inform a doubtful, and a restless Mind ;

Monthly Observations.

And then, if your Authority to own

They shall refuse; so make your Courage known,

That none may dare blaspheme, or scandalize

Those needful Pow'rs, and lawful Dignities,

Which are above their Censures; least your farther

Their Plots, who have no
Hope, but in Disorder;

Since better it becomes Wisemen to die

In order, than to live in Mutiny.

Mark those among you, who whilst they pretend

Your Power, and your Proceedings to befriend.

Impair them, underhand, by driving on

Designs destructive to what should be done.

On the 24th Day of this Month 1750, the illustrious

Prince Frederick-William,
the 5th Son to the Princess

Dowager of Wales was born.

Monthly Observations.

So many Marks upon them
do appear,

Declaring to what Party they adhere,

On the 4th Day of this
Month 1738, the illustrious
George now Prince of Wales
was born.

On the 10th Day of this Month 1711, was born Princess Amelia Sophia. second Daughter to his present Majesty.

Also on the 10th Day of this Month 1713, Princess Carolina third Daughter to his present Majesty, was born.

That well they may be known: and they to whom These are discover'd, find,
what will become

K. George II. Inaugurated.
Of you, and your Affairs, unless you shall

K. George II. proclaim'd.
With speed (and wisely) them
in question call.

B 2 Your

Nor will I long delay, ere I appear
 Within the Confines of your Atmosphere,
 And at some Distance from your World declare
 The Cause of all your Sorrows and your Care.
 And now swift Time had sev'ral Spaces run,
 Between the rising and the setting Sun.

AUGUST hath XXXI Days.

When good Philanglus after Midnight Prayer,
And late revolving Thoughts of publick Care,
Was laid to rest, in silent Slumbers caught,
To strengthen Nature, and enliven Thought:
In Innocence supinely thus he lay,
Until the Dawning of that happy Day.

Monthly Observations.

First to debate, and, then to Question, bring

The Government, and what concerns the King ;

Which, being prudently resolv'd upon,

Will save you Twenty Labours, in that one :

On the 11th Day, 1737.
 the Princess Augusta, the first Daughter to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales was born.

And, make, (if you perform,
 as is profeft)

An easie passing thorough all the rest.

In your Debates, discover not that Spleen,

Or Virulency, wherein, may be seen,

A Purpose, nor to give, nor take content,

But, so contest, that, when ye shall assent,

B 4 There

SEPTEMBER hath XXX Days.

When with a heav'nly and melodious Voice,
 Astræa called on Philanglus twice,
 Arise, arise, now leave thy fair Abode,
 I come (for Gods do never break their Word)
 Make haste to yonder shady, blissful Grove,
 There you'll behold me in the Clouds above.

Cloth'd in a Crimſon and a glorious Blue,
Aurora 'roſe, delightful to the View,
Nor did bright Phæbus in his Orbit riſe
More ſplended, ſince he grac'd the azure Skies ;
Calm was the Wind, ſerene was all the Air,
And Nature never look'd ſo charming fair.

No sooner had he gain'd the appointed Grove,
But he beheld such Glories all above,
As Heaven appears to Souls at first, that came
To take Possession of their peaceful Home.
The Cause of which was but one distant Ray
That sprung from her that thus adorn'd the Day.

Monthly Observations.

On the 2d Day 1709, the illustrious Anne, Princess Royal of England, now Princess of Orange, was born.

And on the 7th Day, 1745 Prince Henry Frederick (4th Son to her Royal Highness the Princess Dowg. of Wales) was born.

And on the 10th Day of this Month 1683, his Sacred Majesty King George II. was born.

Let not these fright. But well examine you
What, to the People; what, to them is due.
That so, your Friends, who see your Prudency,
May be preserved from Apostacy.

The 25th Day of this Month 1734, the hopeful Prince William Henry, 3d Son to the Princess Dowager of Wales was born.

The 30th Day 1719, Her Royal Highness the Princess Dowager of Wales, was born.

Consider,

DECEMBER hath XXXI Days.

With longing Eyes the Patriot from afar,
 Saw her descending like a falling Star.
 'Till she had gain'd the Distance she design'd, [Mind.
 Then seated on a golden Cloud, she thus declar'd her
 In former Times your British Annals sing,
 There liv'd a glorious and a sacred King.

The Use of the TABLE.

FIND your Month (wherein you desire to know at what Time the Pleiades come to South) on the left Side of the Table, and the Day of the Month on the Head; and in the Angle, or Place of Meeting, you have the true Time set over-against every Month, for every Day.

As for Example.

On the 11th Day of January, the Seven Stars come to South at 58 min. past 7 at Night, and July 21, at 27 min. past 7 in the Morning.

Note, M stands for Morning; A for Afternoon; and where there is no Letter, it is the same with the last preceding, &c.

Note also, These following fixed Stars, viz.

		H. M.
The Bull's Eye	comes to S.	0 49	after the Seven Stars.
The great Dog		3 3
The Lion's Heart		6 23
Spica π	comes to S.	9 4	before the Seven Stars.

Eclipses for this Year 1757.

IN the Periphery of this Year, there will be four Eclipses;
viz. two of the Sun, and two of the Moon; and two of the lesser Luminary the Moon, that will be visible in our British Hemisphere; the Calculations and the Types are as follows:

The First is a visible and setting Eclipse of the lesser Luminary the Moon, which will happen upon the third Day of February, calculated from Brent's Tables.

The Fourth and last Eclipse is of the Sun, and invisible; which happens upon the 14th Day of August, at Eleven at Night; which cannot be seen of us, because the Luminaries will be both under the Earth; but it will be conspicuous in our Antipodes, if the Clouds interpose not; for it will be celebrated in the fourth House, and fall in the 22d Degree of the Fire Sign Leo.

Sundry

Sundry excellent Rules, shewing by what Laws the Weather is governed, and how to discover the various Alterations of the same.

TO satisfy the learned and ingenious Part of the World, on what Grounds we proceed in judging of the Alterations of the Air, and to convince another Sort of People, who reflecting on Marſianus's Rule, (Si vis divinare, totum contrarium ad unguem dicito ejus quod Astrologi pollicentur.) Suppose we do but guess at the Weather, and believe that if they should say Rain, when the Astrologer writes fair and dry Weather; or calm, when he foretells Winds; they should hit the Mark as often as the Astrologers: I will (once for all) hint a few of the many Causes, which are either, or should be considered by all such as aim at Credit or Truth in their Predictions of this Kind.

First, then, you must know, that when the Sun (according to Appearance) wheels to a Star of a hot Nature, (as to Mars or Jupiter) it argues a hot or warm Disposition of the Air: If to a Star of a cold Nature, (as Saturn or Mercury) a dis-tempered Air through the Extremity of Cold. And the mutual Conjunction of the Stars that be of one Complexion, augments the same Quality; as the Conjunction of Jupiter and Mars, by a two-fold Virtue of their Heat, makes the lower Region of the Air more fervent.

Many Planets (especially the superior) in northern Signs, a hot Summer, or a temperate Winter: The Example 1756. The contrary, when many Planets (the three Superiors chiefly) are in southern Signs: For so they signify a cold and moist Peristasis of the Air, and a cold Winter.

Saturn in southern Signs, and especially in Capricorn and Aquarius, terrible Winters of Frost and Cold, Summers remiss in Heat, a Famine, an evil Increase of Wine, and of all such Fruits as delight in the Sun.

Moreover, when the cold Nature of Saturn is duplicated by the Presence of Mercury, it makes the Quality of the Season colder: But if such a Conjunction or Aspect of the Planets falls out at the new or full Moon, or at any other Aspect of the Luminaries, the Virtue thereof shall appear much more effectually; nay, if within three Days preceding a new Moon, it addeth Vigour to the Virtue of such a planetary Conjunction or Aspect.

But,

But, when Signs of a contrary Nature be united by Commixture of mutual Aspects, then shall a temperate Affection of the Air attend the same. The like you may judge, if there happen at the same Time Constellations of different Natures, whereof one produceth Frost and Cold, the other Heat; or if one of them bode a dry Air, the other a moist, for so of Necessity a Mean is produced: The Influences of a contrary Constellation mutually impeding and mitigating one another: As the Conjunction of the Sun and Jupiter, or Mars, (when both in the Fire Sign) brings with it greater Heat, than if one were in a cold Sign, and the other in a hot.

Furthermore, the full and new Moon that be celebrated in Angles (the Horoscope especially, or Angle of the Earth) are usually accompanied with Rain the same Day they happen.

But here you must note, that the Effects of the Stars do oftentimes shew themselves before they come into partile Configuration; that is to say, during the Time of their Access or Application one to another; and sometimes in their Defluxion or Separation, which the ancient Grecian Astrologers named Epichemasin and Prochemasin.

There are some, who (not altogether without Reason) erect Schemes to the apparent Times of the Conjunctions of the Luminaries: And (having found the Almuten of the Figure, and observed what Planets be angular) direct the Horoscope of the Conjunction (allowing one Day for every thirteen Degrees eleven Minutes, the mean Motion of the Moon in one Day:) For that, when the Horoscope comes by such Direction to any Planet that was then angular, or to the Lord of the Lunation, some Change of Air, or Rain or Snow, or Wind, at least a dark cloudy Air succeedeth.

Consider likewise the Position of the Lord of the Lunation in the Figure, and the Latitude of the Moon, for from thence come the Winds that occasion Tempests.

Take Notice also, when the Moon comes within the Beams of the Lord of the Figure, or the angular Planets; for then principally does she manifest herself according to the Nature of the Planet.

The Conjunction of the Planets with fixed Stars, not far distant from the Ecliptic, produces a notable Alteration of the Air: And when the Stars leave one Sign, and enter into another, they betoken Showers. Yet still a Regard must be had to the Qualities of the Signs and Seasons. As if the Muta-

Mutation be in the wintery Sign, and in the Winter or Spring, then may Rain or Snow be safely denounced; (Snow in Winter, if so be a cold Peristasis is impending.) The general Rule is, Grandines in Aprili & Octobri, Nives in Hyeme, in Æstate Tonitrua.

A special Regard must be had to the Nature of the Earth and Air peculiar to the Horizon you live in, or write for; because that in all Places they are not of a like Nature: And no less to the Winds that agree to the particular Season of the Year; forasmuch as they blow not alike in all Places, others chronical, which come at a certain Time of the Year: Wherefore Cardan, Seg. 7. Aph. 29. Oportet Cælum cognoscere Regionis, & quo tempore Anni fit tempestuosum, tum etiam cui Signo Regio magis conveniat, si veritatem in judicando ostendi velimus.

In the next Place, let the Interval of the Sun, Moon, and Planets be observed, which consists of the Aggregate of the Sun and Planets Orbs upon the Access or Deflux thereof, and especially in the Conjunction of the Planets: As in the Sun's Application to a Conjunction with Saturn, because the Sun's Orb consists of twelve Degrees, and Saturn of nine: Therefore as soon as the Sun shall be distant from him, not more than twenty-one Degrees (which Number is produced by the Addition of twelve and nine Degrees) the Cold commenceth, and lasts, for the most Part, until the Sun have separated himself twenty-one Degrees from his Conjunction with him.

In like Manner the Planets which have their Houses opposite when they behold one another by forcible Aspects, as the Opposition, or Quartile, or Trine, do introduce a memorable Change to Rain, or Cold, or Heat. As, if the Sun be in Aspect with Saturn, a cold Peristasis of the Air, especially if either of them be in watery Signs: In the Summer Time frequent Showers, but in Winter, Cold and Snow. So also the Configurations of Mars and Venus do bring, for the most Part, Heat and warm Showers; Jupiter and Mercury, vehement Blasts of Wind. And these Configurations of the Sun with Saturn, Venus and Mars, Jupiter and Mercury, are (by the ancient Mathematicians) called Portarum seu Valvarum Apertiones.

Nor must you neglect the Rising and Setting of the fifteen fixed Stars of the first, and the fifteen of the second Magnitude, tude, recorded by Ptolemy, in his Calendar. For, if upon the Days that those Stars rise or set with the Sun, there be a new or full Moon celebrated, or that some Planet of a conformable Nature with those fixed Glories shall rise or set with him, or some other memorable Constellation that Day happen, then you may safely predict a notable Change of Air. And this is confirmed by Cardan, Seg. 7. Aphor. 71. Oportet & exortus & occasus heliacos clariorum syderum observare, vix enim fiet, ne, sub ortu Caniculæ siccitatis, morbi non vigeant; & sub Arcturi occasu imbres. And indeed, unless the Rising and Setting of the fixed Stars did operate something, we should hardly have Rain at one Time more than another: For (as saith the same Author, Seg. 7. Aph. 72.) Incertus est planetarum concursus.

Observe also, when the Moon, or any of these Planets, transits the Angles of the World's Revolution, and of the Angles of the new and full Moons; for then, be sure, some Change of Air ensueth, according to the Nature of those Planets.

Moreover, if upon a Conjunction or Opposition of the three superior Planets, either amongst themselves, or with the three Inferiors, the Moon soon after applies unto them by an opposite or quartile Configuration, be assured of Rain or Winds, according to the Nature of the Planets so conjoined or opposed.

Consider, too, the Eclipses, Comets, and other general Constitutions. I presume it is not forgotten, what vehement and mighty Winds we had in January and February following the first Appearance of the Comet in December, 1752; and what incredible Tempests were, the two following Years, on the Coasts of England, France, Spain, Holland, and Germany; in the Atlantic Ocean, and the Baltic Seas; the Owners of the Navies thereby scattered, and of the many Ships, Goods, and Men that were lost, and therein miserably perished, have Cause to remember.

Neither do you wholly neglect the Rule of Eudoxus, which Pliny tells of (Lib. 2. Cap. 47.) viz. That, in the Space of four Years, not only the Winds, but all other Tempests (for the most Part) return to what they were before. For, although that Rule of his depends only upon this Foundation, [That, at the End of four Years next following the Leap-year, the Political Year agrees almost with the Astronomical, in in Respect of Time, the Rising and Setting, and Mediation of the fixed Stars with the Sun; howbeit, the Motion of the Moon and the other Planets be far different:] Yet because the Power of the Sun and fixed Stars is so great in stirring up of Tempests, and the Moon not far distant from the Place opposite unto that wherein she was four Years before, it is probable, that almost the same Tempests may return: I confess, I never observed it. But, touching the Mansions of the Moon, I do not regard them; as remembering what Cardan admonisheth, Seg. 7. Aph. 57. Mansiones Lunæ ne inspicias; est Lunæ vis à loco suo, à loco in signifero, à Lumine, Planetis & Fixis.

Astral Observations on the Four Quarters of the Year 1757. And first upon the Winter Quarter,

WHICH takes its Beginning upon Tuesday, the 21st Day of December, 1756, at 57 Minutes past Seven in the Morning; at that Time 26 Degrees of Sagittarius ascend in our Horizon, and the first Degree of Scorpio culminates; the Moon is in the 25th Degree thereof departing from the Body of Mercury, and applying to the Body of Mars in the Ascendant; Mars, Lord of the 10th. The Moon, that represents the common Sort of People, has lately been in Square to Jupiter, Lord of the Ascendant, and applying to the Conjunction of Mercury and Mars, Saturn and the Dragon's Tail, in the 2d House: This shews miserable Complaints among the Poor in general, both for Want of Money and Want of Trade, the true Product of our glorious Peace. The Moon in Sagittarius, that represents the Hips and Thighs, shews the People, during this Quarter, to be much subject to some Weakness or Lameness in the Thighs, Pain in the Bowels, or Wind-cholic, and the like. But what I shall particularly observe in this and the vernal Quarter, is the Conjunction of the two malefic Planets, Saturn and Mars, which will happen on the 20th Day of February next; besides this there be two Eclipses of the Lights in the same Month, the Moon in Leo, and the Sun in the Beginning of Pisces; and the Positions both violent. Hence we have just Reason to fear some Disease will happen to Mankind about the Spring Quarter; you that are acquainted with Nativities, think with yourselves what these two hopeful Fellows Saturn and Mars will do, then judge of this, and what I have said of it. But, let it be as it will, the Effects of that Position will be attended with something very remarkable and public; and the Reason of it is plain. Notwithstanding the unlucky Conjunction of Saturn and Mars in Pisces, which will shew itself in the ensuing Year, Multæ Ægritudines Militum & Nobilium Excursus, &c. Untoward Diseases will afflict Mankind. Some Clashing and Disagreement between Princes about Alliances and Promises broken, and Endeavours by others to break some Leagues, revive some old Quarrel or Rebellion. New Projects of State in divers Parts and Countries; new Politics, fine Stratagems, monstrous Designs at Hand, and these without either Honour or Honesty.

Of the Spring Quarter.

THE Spring or vernal Quarter (so called à wirendo, because every Thing then groweth green and flourisheth) commenceth when the Sun, the King of the Stars, Oculus Mundi, the Eye of the World, Fons Lucis, the Fountain of Light, hath made his Revolution through the ecliptic Ring, or the twelve celestial Signs of the Zodiac, and beginneth his his Journey again at the first Scruple of Aries, making the Days and Nights of equal Length. This vernal Equinox happeneth this Year on Sunday the 20th Day of March, at Ten in the Morning, where 3 Degrees of Cancer ascend in the eastern Finitor, and 27 Degrees of Aquarius in the Mid-heaven. The Moon is in the 6th Degree of Aries, intercepted in the eleventh House. From the several Configurations now imminent, and they partly benevolent, we may expect very solid Conclusions and deliberate Councils on Foot; and although I do find evident Cause to judge, that this Commonwealth, and its Governors, now or near this Month of March or April, shall have several untoward Relations, tending greatly unto their Disturbance and Discouragement, and shall be miserably scandalised by lascivious Pens and malecontented Persons (who like or approve nothing but their own Productions) yet shall not the Fabric, or Body of this Council, be daunted at any Thing now broached against them, or will they have Occasion to suspect their own Abilities, or make them in Fear of any their ill Neighbours.

Whatever the malevolent Influence of the late Conjunction, of Saturn and Mars, hereof may produce, for there is a strong Poison, and a dire Tail attending its Influence (wherever the wise Mover of all Things shall order it to sting) but, if my Genius fails not, it will fall in Italy generally, and more particularly on Rome and France, Muscovia, Germany, or those Confines. The Kingdom of France seems much threatened with Plague or Pestilence, with War, and those woeful Desolations concomitant unto it: Indeed we may be assured, that God does not in vain demonstrate unto Mankind such and so formidable Eclipses, without Actions succeeding them:

*When every Species of the glittering Sphere,
The Stars returning ranked did appear
In their own Seats; and by the Fates Decree
Each had restor'd its formal Potency;
Experience framed Art, by various Use;
Example guiding where it was obscure;
And (though at a vast Distance) plainly saw
The Stars all-ruling by a tacit Law,
The whole World mov'd by Reason alternate.*

The Summer Quarter

BE G I N S this Year on Tuesday the 21st Day of June, at 8 o'Clock in the Morning; at that Time 2 Degrees of Taurus on the Mid-heaven, and Mars in it, and 18 Deg. of Leo possess the eastern Finitor. The Moon in the 22d Deg. of Leo in the Ascendant, lately separating from the Square of Mars, and in exact Opposition to Saturn in the seventh House: The three superior Planets, and the Moon located in the four cardinal Houses, in Square and Opposition to one another, which is an ill Omen.

For, Cum Luna est in Ascendente, significat prosperitatem & salutationem populi in suis corporibus, & omnibus membris suis: The Position of the Moon in the Ascendant (as at this Time) prenotes the Prosperity and Safety of the People in their Bodies, and every Member thereof; which I pray to God to continue: For, as the Moon is in Opposition to Saturn, it will shew some corrupt Seed of Sedition to have of late crept into the Minds of the vulgar People; so, also, some Fear of War, or the Soldier: But her next Application unto both the Fortunes, by a benign Aspect, gives me assured Testimonies that the Condition of the People begins to amend, and their Minds incline to a more familiar Obedience to the Edicts of the Parliament than formerly. It is very true, that the Merchants may, more than any other, be a little fearful of some Damage at Sea by Piracy, high Winds, and tempestuous Storms. For if the Merchant be amongst the Number of People, as that he is, and the People generally are promised well, then he cannot sustain any great or sinister Loss: For another Author hath these Words of Comfort to us all in general, Si Luna in Ascendente hora Revolutionis fuerit, significat augmentum frigoris, et bonitatem dispositionis hominum, & quod gaudebunt in bono: The Moon in the Ascendant shews generally the Soundness and good Disposition of the Bodies of Men, and that they shall rejoice in Good. When Jupiter, in a Revolution (as here) is in the fourth House, many Men increase their Fortunes by Inheritances falling unto them, and Estates are left unto them from dead Men; Men increase their Fortunes by taking of Farms, by discovering Treasure hid under Ground, and its Recovery, or Money unexpectedly happening unto them, and by Things and Matters of great Antiquity: Men's Sorrows are taken away, and such Things shall be offered them as produce great Joy and Comfort.

The Autumnal Quarter,

WHICH commences this Year on Thursday the 22d of September, at 10 at Night; at which Time, 4 Degrees of Cancer ascend the Horizon, and 27 Deg. of Aquarius are on the Mid-heaven: The Moon in 24 Deg. of Capricorn, departing from the Opposition of Mars, and applying to the Square of Mercury and Venus, and a Square of Saturn, and Jupiter, from Scorpio and Aquarius. These Configurations are of an ill Consequence to Mankind; the first of them corrupts the Understanding and the Senses, and the latter the Life and Constitution of the Body; one provides Work for the Doctor, and the other for the Hangman. I say it will stir up those People that are viciously inclined to base and sordid Actions, as well among our Superiors as our Equals. And this Judgment I am led to, from the Effects such Positions have in the Nativities of Men of all Degrees. For if they have an ill Effect, and poison the Understanding in Nativities, which I am satisfied they do; then it is reasonable to believe, they cannot have a good Effect in a mundane revolutionary Scheme, but on the contrary do Mischief, according to their Nature and Quality. And, to prove this, then I do say, by the Influence of this Position, we shall have Abundance of wicked Contrivances, and too much ingenious Iniquity; new Ways and Tricks invented to steal, cheat, and deceive; and, where Insinuation will not do, Violence and open Force must, for Mars is Lord of the sixth House, and the Moon in the eighth House. Hence expect Sickness and Death, much Robbing on the Highway, and also in Cities and Towns, and these mixed with Murder; and these Things will begin to appear most in October, but more in December and January. And I fear, as Mercury is concerned, there will be much Roguery, under Pretence of Breaking. The next Thing is the Moon, in Opposition to Mars, in the Ascendant, and in Square to Mercury and Venus in the fifth, from a violent Part of Heaven. This shews a sickly Autumn by Fevers and Swellings about the Breast and Stomach; seems to shew a Disorder to those in Childbed and breeding, but I do not think attended with Danger of their Lives; and indeed I heartily wish their Safety.
